

City News

...In Brief

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Returns From Mines.

John Brady has returned to the city from the Kirkland district, where he has been looking after his mining interests for several weeks.

Returns to Camp.

Henry Napes, mining in the Placerville country, in quartz and placer, returned to his camp yesterday after a holiday visit with friends and relatives.

Concludes Visit.

Miss Abbie G. Rambo, teacher of the public school at Cherry creek, returned yesterday from a visit to the southern part of the state, and leaves tomorrow to resume her duties.

Returns South.

G. H. Hensen, interested in mines in the Castle Creek country, returned to his camp yesterday with supplies. He has a gold claim over the line in Maricopa county, distant about two miles.

Visit Ends.

C. A. Peter, Jr., after a week's visit with his parents and many friends in the city, returned to Fresno, California, yesterday, where he is with the San Joaquin and Eastern railway in the auditing department.

Business Trip.

Geo. B. Hill, cement contractor of Jerome, is in the city for a few days on business, and states that the outlook for the greatest building era in that city and Clarkdale is evident from the number of new structures that are contemplated. He has a large contract on the new railroad, building into the smelter site, in concrete construction.

Judge Smith Summoned.

Superior Judge F. O. Smith of this county leaves today for Phoenix, to occupy the bench of the superior court of Maricopa county, for trying certain cases for which Judge Phillips is disqualified. He will probably return on Tuesday.

Cattle Transaction.

The sale of cattle on the range to Center Lusk for the sum of $500, belonging to the estate of William Murphy, deceased, has been closed by Dr. R. N. Looney, as administrator. The cattle are located in the vicinity of Mayer.

Will Return.

Fred Belcher, formerly a miner of the Big Bug district, writes from Markesan, Wisconsin, that he will return in January, two years of a residence in that country during the winter months being sufficient for the ordinary sun-kissed Hassayamper to endure.

To the Oil Fields.

J. V. Stewart, identified with the Tempe-Verde Oil Company, arrived from the southern part of the state yesterday and is en route to the Middle Verde where drilling has been started on a new well. He is optimistic over the future, and will remain permanently at the works.

Resumes Work.

D. J. Ryan is in the city from his mining camp near Kirkland valley, and leaves tomorrow for Middletown where he resumes operations on his copper mines. He reports the Kirkland county as very active, and the outlook as encouraging for several producers to be created during the coming year.

Fine Workmanship.

The Arizona Mine Supply Company yesterday shipped to the Vulture Mines Company, one of the largest and most expensive tanks ever turned out of their shops. It has a capacity of over 30,000 gallons, and is pronounced by mechanics as fine a piece of workmanship as could be turned out of metropolitan shops.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Business Trip.

M. H. Perkins is in the city from Perkinsville, the new town on the Verde Valley railway. He has livestock business to transact for a few days.

Passing Through.

Mrs. Hattie Turnbull, a former resident, was a brief visitor to the city yesterday from Los Angeles, while en route to Jerome, to join her husband.

Visited Copper City.

Pete Castonguay, chef of the Pioneers' Home, returned yesterday from Jerome and Clarkdale, on business matters, and reports those places in a thrifty condition.

From the Range.

Fred Dugas is in the city from Sycamore Creek, where he has ranch and range interests. He gives a good report of the condition of cattle and that fair feed is still to be had.

Valley Visitors.

Ernest Richards and Frank Wald-

roup, farmers of the Verde Valley, are in the city on a business trip, and report that country as enjoying prosperous times from one end to the other.

Robert Young, the manager of the Stephens & Hoover market who was taking an enforced vacation by reason of a broken wrist caused by an automobile kicking him, is back at the block again.

Concludes Visit.

Miss Ernestine Lund, after an enjoyable holiday visit with friends and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lund, has returned to the Tempe Normal to resume her duties as a student in that institution.

On Mining Business.

W. H. Faber, identified with the La Gracia mines in the Black Hills, is in the city and at the Prescott hotel. He reports conditions as satisfactory and development going ahead with the usual force employed.

To Mohave.

William Bright, interested in mines in the Tom Reed section of Mohave county, left yesterday for his camp to remain for several days. A force of miners has been placed at work and he goes to make an inspection of development.

Returns East.

M. M. Green, who has been looking after his mining interests in the Cherry Creek district for the past week, returned to Chicago yesterday. He has acquired the old and well known Etta mine, and will start operating in a short time.

To the Mines.

Charles Husted, owner of a group of mines in the Jersey Lily field, left yesterday to begin assessment work and contemplates establishing a permanent camp again. He has attractive properties, on which are several hundred feet of development.

Visited Old Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schere, who have been visiting with relatives and friends in Pennsylvania, for several weeks, returned yesterday and leave today for Copper Basin, where the former has valuable copper mines. He recently disposed of a portion of his holdings.

Goes to Jail.

Mike Ryan was bound over to the superior court yesterday for trial, on the charge of burglarizing the Bashford-Burmister Company store of valuable articles by breaking the glass of the show window. His examination took place before Judge McLane, and he was placed under $2,000 bail, which he could not secure.

Business Trip.

Jersey McCloud, the well known resident of Lynx Creek, and the Mayor of Walker, was a brief visitor to the city yesterday on business. He states the country is lively, due to the activity of the individual mine owner and the energetic leasers, who are making a heavy production of ore a larger tonnage going out to Humboldt than at any time in the history of that section.

WHOLESALE MASSACRE.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Dec. 28.—Old men, women and children, composing virtually the entire population of a native village in isolated Papula, were massacred by other natives, according to news received here.

Arizona State News.

PHOENIX.

Notables Wed.

No more notable event has occurred in Phoenix in many months than the marriage of Mrs. Grace M. Forbes to Captain Joseph L. B. Alexander, which took place at the bride's home, 604 North Third Avenue at six o'clock Saturday afternoon. Reverend Henry Martyn Campbell of the Presbyterian church officiating.

School Bond Election.

Whether or not bonds in the sum of $200,000 bearing 5 per cent interest for 20 years, shall be issued to provide the necessary buildings to relieve the present crowded condition of the public schools, is the question the bona fide taxpayers of school district No. 1, embracing all of Phoenix, will be called upon to decide at an election to be held next Saturday.

Another Rate Hearing.

Among the important hearings called by the corporation commission for the month of January is that regarding the rates charged by all the railroad companies on shipments of livestock within the state. A table of rates has been prepared by Secretary Smith which will be introduced as evidence at the hearing, and which it is claimed will not only give relief to shippers of cattle to interstate points, but at the same time be compensatory to the defending companies.

Phoenix Charter Rejected.

The action of Governor Hunt in rejecting the proposed charter for the city of Phoenix, which he did in a letter setting forth his reasons on Saturday, has not ceased to provoke a great deal of comment from the citizens and taxpayers of the city. It is the common opinion that steps should be taken immediately to perfect the arrangements whereby a charter can be adopted by the city that will meet the approval of the chief executive of the state.

Pioneer Woman Dead.

The funeral of Mrs. Kate Murray, the pioneer Arizona woman who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas H. King, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's Catholic Church. Mrs. Murray came to Arizona from St. Louis more than 30 years ago, settling in the neighborhood of Ash Fork, and with her three sons engaged in the cattle business. A short time ago, however, she came to Phoenix, where she has since resided with her daughter. Mrs. Murray was 84 years of age at the time of her death.

TUCSON.

University Wants Land.

A bill deeding school and university lands to the Desert Botanical laboratory will be introduced in the legislature at the special session by Senator John T. Hughes at the request of the chamber of commerce.

Building Boom.

A building boom has started in Casa Grande with the arrival of material for 20 homes, some of which are now in course of construction. Others would now be going up except for a shortage of carpenters, according to residents of the valley. Three carloads of lumber have been shipped into the valley during the past week, and two more are on the way. Nearly all the lumber is shipped from Los Angeles.

Care of Sick is Costly.

It costs the people of Pima county in the neighborhood of $20,000 a year to care for the indigent sick, suffering from tuberculosis, who come to Tucson, principally from the east, in search of health. This is the report that was made to Governor O. B. Colquitt of Texas, chairman of the Southwestern Conference on Tuberculosis, by Secretary John F. Myers of the chamber of commerce.

Broke all Records.

A high tide of prosperity surged through the stores of Tucson during the Christmas season. Merchants are unanimous in saying that this was the best Christmas trade they ever enjoyed. They unite in the declaration that it was far larger than in 1911.

Not only was the Christmas trade good, but the trade of the entire year now ending was better, in many instances than that of the preceding year.

Business men are encouraged by this showing of prosperity to predict that of the year of 1913 will be as good a business year as Tucson has ever experienced, or better.

Bank Changes Hands.

By a deal completed within five minutes of the advent of Christmas day, control of the Arizona National bank passed into the hands of a group of Gila Valley capitalists known colloquially as the Solomon, Freudenthal, and Wickersham families, who own the Safford Bank, the Solomon-Wickersham Co., and the Solomon-Wickersham Co., which has wholesale houses in Globe, Safford, Solomonville and Bowie.

The purchasers comprise Ploebus Freudenthal, I. E. Solomon, D. W. Wickersham, Mrs. Jennie Solomon, E. W. Clayton, J. C. Prima, and Charles F. Solomon.

DOUGLAS.

Troop Is Lost.

The Lost Tribes of Israel have become a mere shadow insofar as historical mysteries are to be considered.

The Lost Company of Sonora is the more interesting mystery because of its newness.

One captain and a command variously estimated at from sixty to one hundred have disappeared between Douglas and Palomas. Not even the paymaster can find them.

Crusade Against Hoboes.

A crusade against the hobo element has been started by Chief of Police Askins and his men as a result of the numerous burglaries, petty thievery cases, etc., which have been brought to light within the last few days. While the police have by hard work succeeded in capturing several of the burglars, yet one or two have escaped their vigilance. The chief therefore decided that the only way to eliminate crime is by telling the hoboes to "move on."

Wanted to See Baby.

"Can't a father see his own baby?" asked C. B. Murdock, who is being held to answer to the superior court on a charge of disturbing the peace. This he asked of the court at a private hearing Monday and when his case came before the justice court in Lowell Tuesday morning, Murdock broke down completely. "I wanted so much to see my baby girl," he sobbed. "When they refused me entrance into the house and told me that I was no longer its father, I beat the door down and went to her." At this point Murdock wept until his body shook. "After I saw my child they had me arrested for disturbing the peace. Yes, I am guilty of that charge but I just had to see my baby. I just had to."

On the evidence of the case, the man is being held in $500 bonds for his appearance in the superior court. Murdock's wife left him some time ago.

GLOBE.

How Goodwin Spent Xmas.

On the second floor of the Gila County Jail, with seventeen other prisoners held for various offenses, had boiled beef, bread, potatoes and coffee for his dinner, in the manner in which John B. Goodwin, alias James H. Steele, one of the murderers of Fred Kibbe and Alfred Hillpot on September 15th, 1910, spent his Christmas.

Goodwin has a cell to himself, but during the day he is allowed to walk around the corridor with the other prisoners.

INSPECTED MINES.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

M. M. Green, identified with the Etta and other mines in Cherry Creek district, has returned to the city after making an examination, and states that arrangements are being perfected to resume development in a short time. He will remain for several days before returning to Chicago, and expressed himself as elated over the possibilities of that famed old time gold producer.

Oil placer location blanks—the only kind with which to make valid locations—on sale at the Journal-Miner office.

NOTICE OF HEARING PETITION.

In the Superior Court of the County of Yavapai, State of Arizona, in the matter of the estate of Pamela L. Otis, deceased, notice of hearing petition.

Notice is hereby given that Theodore Weld Otis, executor of the last will and testament of Pamela L. Otis, deceased, has filed in this Court his final account, report and petition for discharge of said estate and that the same will be heard on Friday, the 10th day of January, A. D. 1913, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the courtroom of said Court, in Prescott, County of Yavapai, State of Arizona, and all persons interested in said estate are notified then and there to appear and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

Dated December 27th, 1912.

P. J. FARLEY, Clerk.

(Seal of Superior Court.)

The Social Mirror

Christmas was the scene of many festivities in Prescott this year, and one of the most interesting events of that day was the wedding of Miss Louise Rossel Gibbs and Prof. Frank William Hart. The bride who is a graduate of the University of Michigan, has endeared herself to a great many Prescott people, during her residence here for a number of years, as a teacher in the High School. Prof. Hart, who is the principal of the High School, has also a great many friends and well wishers here. He is a graduate of the University of Indiana.

The wedding was solemnized at high noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lamson, in Whipple Heights, and was most charmingly simple in all of its details, as there were no attendants and only a few intimate friends present.

The house was beautified by a profusion of trailing pepper boughs with their bright berries and quantities of mistletoe, green and red Christmas colors predominating throughout. The bride's table was centered with a tiny Christmas tree, and strands of smilax and white tulle gave a beautiful effect.

Rev. J. Rockwood Jenkins performed the ceremony and the impressive Episcopal ring service was used. Mrs. Herbert Shotwell played beautiful selections during the ceremony. The bride's gown was of white satin charmeuse draped in silk voile and dainty lace. She carried a large arm bouquet of violets. Mr. and Mrs. Hart left on the afternoon train for a short visit at Castle Hot Springs, and will be at home to their friends in their attractive new bungalow on Union street after the first of February.

Miss Muriel Milnes, who made her home here for a year with her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Milnes, was married at Santa Cruz, California, on Christmas day to Mr. William Parker, the proprietor of a newspaper in one of the flourishing cities of the San Joaquin Valley. Owing to a recent bereavement in the family of the bride the wedding was a very quiet affair, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present. After the ceremony, which was performed at the home of, and by the Dr. H. E. Milnes, the happy couple started on an extended wedding tour of Southern California.

Quite the merriest affair of the whole year was the Yavapai Club Cotillion on Thursday night which was attended by over a hundred guests.

The decorations were arranged with a background of greenery, palms, ferns, branches of pine, mistletoe and long graceful strands of smilax having been used to accomplish the pretty idea. In the ball room the lights were shaded softly with red and from behind a wonderful screen of green foliage was heard the most inspiring orchestral strains.

Near midnight the guests gathered in the dining room to partake of a delicious supper at the conclusion of which all joined in a chorus of popular songs. Sherry dancing continued for three hours and even then the enthusiastic guests departed with reluctance.

Among those who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Joslin, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kastner, Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell Linney, Mr. and Mrs. George Edward Meany, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Roper, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Mitchell, Mrs. Maude Baldwin, the Misses Alice Adams, Edith Hurley, Adelaide Bishop, Ethel Hale, Olive Fisher, Mabel Brisley, Theresa Fredericks, Grace Jones, Lila Hawkins, Elaine Wooster, Anna Cahill, Vera McNulty and Noel; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Colten, Mr. and Mrs. J. William Waara, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Richard, of Claremont, California; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cates and son, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deming, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Cheverton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Taschner, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flinn, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hazeltine, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Heap, Messrs. Joe Linney, Floyd Allen, Jack Jones, Robert K. Porter, Chad Hinderer, Harry Penchoin, Gus. Peter, F. L. Haworth, Arthur Calles, Harry Shumate, Andrew Baldwin, C. E. Treux, Harris, Ritter and Embach.

Beautiful in the smallest detail was the dinner given on Wednesday evening by Mayor and Mrs. Morris Goldwater to which were bidden eight friends including: Mr. and Mrs. James Hope, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Fredericks, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deming, Miss Theresa Fredericks and Mr. Chad Hinderer. The center of the table was a mass of gracefully arranged red carnations while yards of smilax fell from the chandelier to the corners of the table and to one side of each name card was a lighted miniature Christmas tree. Candle sticks, with shades of red, perfected a typical Yuletide appearance.

A handsomely arranged table was that of Mrs. Hugo Richards when, on Christmas evening, she entertained at a most enjoyable dinner Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Burmister, Mr. and Mrs. Orleans Longacre, Miss Agnes Todd and Miss Emily Daniel.

A happy affair of the week was given on Monday when Miss Nell Clemens was hostess in compliment to Miss Louise Gibbs. The guests were bidden to luncheon at the home of Mrs. O. H. Tucker and the table was exquisite with its decorations of pink carnations, rosy lights and bunches of mistletoe.

The name cards, on which were painted tiny cupids, bore the names of Mrs. Richard Lamson, Mrs. Herbert Shotwell, Mrs. Hartwell Linney, Mrs. O. H. Tucker, Miss Louise Gibbs, Miss Emma Dutcher, Miss Florence Jones, Miss Alice Adams, Miss Meta Dexter, Miss Agnes Todd and Miss Ethel Hale.

It was a jolly time that was spent on Christmas Eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell Linney. Various games were played and there was a beautiful tree which was laden with gifts for: Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. George Edward Mgan, Miss Ethel Hale and Mr. Joe Linney.

Members of the Mary Carey Club enjoyed a three days' treat when on Saturday, Monday and Tuesday afternoon, Miss Lucy Jenkins, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Yount and Mrs. Norman Hoffman, presided at a lovely tea in the Club rooms of the Mary Carey Girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marks entertained at a delightful repast on Christmas evening when their guests were: Miss Bonnell, Miss Ethel Hale, Miss Nell Clemens, Mr. Joe Linney, and Mr. Robert Connell. A beautiful bunch of glowing carnations graced the attractive table.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Norris entertained with a delightful dinner in honor of Miss Anna Herndon, cousin of Mrs. John C. Herndon. Red carnations and red candles made a very attractive table.

Mrs. Robert Burmister gave a Christmas party on Monday evening for the school children of the primary classes of the Congregational Sunday School. Mrs. Burmister was assisted by Rev. and Mrs. Lathe, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hazeltine, Mr. Burmister and the teachers of the primary department. About forty children were present and were made happy with jolly games, and best of all, a Christmas tree with a gift for each one hanging from its branches.

Among the many delightful affairs of the week was the Christmas dinner given by Mrs. John C. Herndon at her home on South Cortez Street. The rooms were decked with Christmas greens and on the table the attractive decorations were masses of brilliant holly berries radiating from the center pieces, and a red shaded silver candelabrum. Unique place cards marked covers for Miss Anna Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Linney, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Russell, Mrs. John C. Herndon and Mr. Charles W. Herndon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. William Waara entertained on Christmas day with an informal dinner at their home on South Pleasant Street. The table decorations were clusters of red carnations. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Armistage were the favored guests.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kastner were hosts at a delightful family reunion dinner Wednesday evening, when they had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nolan, Mrs. Kate Nolan, Mrs. Roberts, Mr. Alfred Hoffman and Miss Betty Kastner. The table was beautifully decorated with gorgeous poinsettias and this color scheme was carried throughout the dinner.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. A. D. Adams, assisted by her daughter, Miss Alice Adams, provided a delightful afternoon for her guests. The affair, which was given in compliment to Mrs. George Colten, included about a dozen friends, who spent the afternoon playing Royal Auction.

The LeRoy Anderssons spent Christmas at Castle Hot Springs having made the delightful trip in their new Stutz automobile.
